Executive Summary:

In 1Q/16, net profit of Baht 5,150 million was remarkably achieved, representing a 0.8% increase on a quarter-on-quarter basis, and a 19.0% increase over the same period of 2015, amidst the challenging environment, and the seasonality impact on retail spending, and repayment of corporate working capital lines. Underlining the robust results in 1Q/16 was the solid performance in non-interest incomes, one of Krungsri strategic focus under the Mid-Term Business Plan. Meanwhile, higher net interest income was underscored by the improvement in funding costs driven by the shift from higher cost borrowing to lower rate saving products, and lowered deposit volume.

Total loans stood at Baht 1,302,180 million, a decrease of Baht 1,274 million, or 0.1% from December 2015. The slight loan contraction in 1Q/16 was resulting from seasonality repayment of corporate working capital lines and lackluster loan demand, mirroring the slow pace of economic recovery. Meanwhile, the retail segment recorded growth in auto hire purchase and mortgage.

Deposits totaled Baht 1,032,473 million, a decrease of Baht 13,817 million, or 1.3%, from December 2015. The contraction in deposits corresponded to the tepid loan demand.

Net fees and service income increased by 2.7% quarter-on-quarter, driven by an increase in loan-related fees, hire purchase fees and bancassurance fees.

Non-performing loans represented 2.28% of total loans, comparable to 2.24% in December 2015.

Meanwhile, our total reserve stood at Baht 47,174 million, with an excess reserve over the Bank of Thailand's reserve requirements of Baht 14,330 million, or 43.6%. The loan loss coverage ratio was 142.9%.

Earnings per share (EPS) was Baht 0.70 in 1Q/16.

While the economic recovery in the first quarter was restrained, we expect the recovery momentum to gain traction in the latter part of the year, supported by an acceleration in government spending and robust growth in the tourism sector, despite a weak external sector. A modest pickup in consumption is expected to be driven by stabilizing agricultural prices, paced growth in non-farm income, and more government stimulus measures. Meanwhile, an accelerated government budget disbursement together with investment projects will support a rebound in investment. In this scenario, although we need to remain cautious on the down-side risks of the economy, we expect the economy to grow by 3.2% and contribute to broad-based loan growth in the range of 5-6% for 2016.

An increase in interest income was driven by an increase in hire purchase and financial lease income. On a year-on-year basis, net interest income increased by Baht 1,136 million or 8.2%, mainly attributed to a significant decrease in interest expense of Baht 1,037 million as a result of a decrease in interest on deposits and interest on borrowing, supplementing an increased interest income of Baht 99 million.

The lower yield on earning assets was offset by the lower cost of funds led to a steady NIM at 3.81%, in 1Q/16, comparable to 3.82% in 4Q/15. In 1Q/16 the overall yield moderated to 5.31% from 5.40% in 4Q/15. While cost of funds improved to 1.64% from 1.73% in 4Q/15 in line with a higher mix of lower cost funds, as reflected from an increase portion of current and savings deposits.

As of March 31, 2016, total loans stood at Baht 1,302,180 million, a decrease of Baht 1,274 million, or 0.1% from December 2015. The slight loan contraction in 1Q/16 was resulting from seasonality repayment of corporate working capital lines and lackluster loan demand, mirroring the slow pace of economic recovery.

The retail segment saw an increase of 2.1% in 1Q/16 or an increase of Baht 11,567 million. The retail loan growth was largely attributed to growth in auto hire purchase and mortgage segments. Meanwhile, the contraction in credit card and personal loan was largely attributed to seasonally lower spending and repayment patterns.

Auto hire purchase loans grew by 2.9% in 1Q/16 despite a contraction in domestic car sales (for the first 2 months of 2016, domestic car sales dropped by 12% compared to the same period last year). The growth was underpinned by both new and used cars volumes, underlying our strong Auto business franchise and customers' brand preference.

Mortgage loans grew by 6.6% during the quarter, particularly from the segment which Krungsri partnered with key developers. An increase in demand for housing loan was fuelled by consumers speeding up their purchase and transfer of housing prior to an expiration of government's assistance measure (reduction in the housing transfer fee and housing registration fee) at the end of April 2016.

In line with industry development, credit cards and personal loans contracted by 5.0% in 1Q/16, driven mainly by seasonally lower spending patterns, and normal repayments, following significant growth at 8.4% in the previous quarter.

The corporate loan contracted by 2.6% driven largely by the seasonality impact of working capital repayments for Thai corporates. International corporate loan slightly decreased by 0.6% owing to a lackluster loan demand that mirrored fragile global economic recovery.

SME loans increased 0.5% in 1Q/16. The growth in SME loan was driven by medium and small SMEs, attributed to the participation in the government's soft loan scheme.

As at end 1Q/16, commercial lending, comprising corporate and SME customers accounted for 56% of our total loan portfolio, while retail lending represented the remaining 44%.

While the economic recovery in the first quarter was restrained, we expect the recovery momentum to gain traction in the latter part of the year, supported by an acceleration in government spending and robust growth in the tourism sector, despite a weak external sector. A modest pickup in consumption is expected to be driven by stabilizing agricultural prices, paced growth in non-farm income, and more government stimulus measures. Meanwhile, an accelerated government budget disbursement together with investment projects will support a rebound in investment. In this scenario, although we need to remain cautious on the down-side risks of the economy, we expect the economy to grow by 3.2% and contribute to broad-based loan growth in the range of 5-6% for 2016.
